» Visa status

Please keep in mind that the conditions of your stay in Japan are dependent upon your visa status. Please check your passport, entry permission certificate, resident card, or certificate of alien registration card to see how long you are eligible to stay in Japan. If you wish to renew or change your visa status, you must first apply.

◆ Points regarding visa status

- Short stay visas, such as tourist visas, are not permitted for working in Japan. You will need to apply for permission to perform activities outside the scope of your visa.
- If you wish to renew your visa status, you can apply starting three months before it expires. As a rule, if you are on a short-term visa, you will not be able to renew your visa.
- If you are planning on leaving temporarily and then re-entering Japan, you will need to fill out the form for a re-entry permit.
- Performing activities not allowed by your visa, such as working without the proper visa, will be penalized. Also, you will be deported if your stay illegally exceeds the length of your visa.

For visa applications, changes to visa status, period of stay changes, permission to perform activities outside the scope of the current visa, permanent resident applications, and re-entry permits, contact:

My Number

Japanese Social Security and Tax Number system (“Individual Number” or “My Number”) was started in January 2016 for the fields of social security, tax and disaster response.

◆What is “My Number”?

“My Number” (Individual Number) is a 12-digit number assigned to individuals living in Japan under the Social Security and Tax Number System. It is used primarily in connection with social security, taxation, disaster response, and several other areas. Foreigners registered as residents in Japan (medium-term residents, special permanent residents, etc.) will also receive their Individual Number.

Households with a resident registration in Japan will have their “My Number” printed on the notification card sent by the city hall where they are registered as a resident, or on an Individual Number notice sent by the government.

※Individual Number notification will not be reissued.

◆When to use the “My Number” card

- For tax returns and other tax procedures
- For tax and social security procedures for your employer to use
- For tax procedures for brokerage firms and insurance companies to use.
- For receiving welfare benefits and for procedures under the National Health Insurance and Nursing Care Insurance programs.
- For sending or receiving money to or from other countries.

◆What is the “My Number” Card (Individual Number Card)?

- This card proves both your Individual Number and identity in any procedures related to the Individual Number. It also serves as your official ID card.
- You can apply for a “My Number” Card.
(The first issuance of the Card is free of charge)
- Even after receiving the “My Number” Card, you will still need to keep your residence card, special permanent resident certificate, etc.

1 Administrative procedures at city hall

Basic resident register and personal seal

When you change your place of residence, first register it in the city, town, or village you lived in prior to moving. You should receive a change of address certificate. (You can also submit a moving-out notification via “Mynaportal” using your “My Number” card.) Then, within 14 days of moving into your new place of residence, please bring your Moving-out Certificate to the municipal office of the new place of residence and complete the moving-in procedures. When changing your place of residence, please be sure to bring your residence card or special permanent resident certificate.

As a rule, you must register your change of address in person, but an authorized representative may register for you.

◆ Requesting a basic resident register

On July 9th, 2012, the alien registration system was abolished. In its place, a new residency management system was started for foreigners and Japanese alike. Instead of a certification of information recorded on foreign residents (gaikokujin toroku genpyo kisai jiko shomeisho), foreign nationals will now receive a basic resident register (juminhyo).

Thus, if there are Japanese and foreign nationals in the same household, you can receive a certificate which shows information for all family members.

Section	Fee (1 copy)	Necessary documents
Citizen's service	300 yen	1) For yourself: Residence card, Special Permanent Resident Certificate, or a document issued by a government or municipal office with a photo, such as a “My Number” card or driver's license. ※If the above documents are not available, then a combination of two of the following are acceptable: health insurance card (kenko hokensho), eligibility verification form, pension book (nenkin techo), bankbook (yokin tsucho.) or hospital/clinic patient card (shinsatsu ken).

◆ Personal seal registrations

You can register only one seal per person. The seal must show the name or part of the name that appears on your basic resident register. Please check with the Citizen's Section before registering your seal.

Taxes

Japanese taxes (zeikin) include national taxes levied by the national government and local taxes levied by prefectural and municipal governments. National taxes include forest environment tax, income tax, corporate tax, inheritance tax, and consumption tax. Local taxes include prefectural taxes such as prefectural inhabitant tax and automobile tax, and municipal taxes such as municipal inhabitant tax, fixed asset tax, and light automobile tax.

◆Municipal, prefectural taxes, and forest environment taxes (including national income tax).

The municipal (shiminzei) and prefectural (kenminzei) inhabitant tax and forest environment tax are levied on those who live in Dazaifu City as of January 1 and had income during the previous year.

Even if you currently have no income, if you had income in the previous year, you will be taxed accordingly.

If the tax is deducted from your salary and paid by your company, it is due monthly from June to May of the following year; if paid by you, it is due in four installments in June, August, October, and January. Even those who have moved abroad will be taxed in Dazaifu City if they were residing there on January 1st of the same year.

The Forest Environment Tax is a new national tax that began in fiscal 2024, and is levied together with the municipal and prefectural taxes. In addition, like the municipal and prefectural taxes, an income tax (shotokuzei), a national tax, is imposed on your income for the year from January to December. You must file an income tax return even if you are away from Japan during that period. If income tax is collected from wages earned from part-time work, etc., you may be eligible for a refund on a portion of your income tax if you file a tax return at the tax office.

Income tax is self-assessed. Tax returns are filed between February 16 and March 15. (You do not have to file a personal income tax return if your only source of income is a salary from a regular employer or if your employer performs year-end adjustments.)

National Health Insurance (for those 74 or younger)

Those who live in Dazaifu and are not enrolled in their workplace medical insurance program, must enroll and pay the National Health Insurance program (kokumin kenko hoken). The goal of this program is to provide a worry-free system of receiving medical attention, and to lessen the financial burden of the medical bills on the patients.

Tourists, those staying on a three-month or less visa holders, diplomats and social insurance subscribers are ineligible for the national health insurance program.

◆ Admission procedure of the national health insurance program

In the following instances, please go through the National Health Insurance and Pension Section (City Hall).

1. When moving to Dazaifu City
2. When resigning from a company
3. When a child is born

◆ National Health Insurance program payment

The National Health Insurance tax is calculated for each household based on the previous year's income of those enrolled in the National Health Insurance program. If the insurance tax is not paid by the due date, a delinquency charge will be incurred, and the taxpayer may be subject to a disposition for delinquency. In addition, if you are in arrears for a long period of time, you may be required to pay a special medical care cost (10% of the total).

◆ Medical expense payments

When you visit a hospital for illness or injury, you can receive treatment by paying 30% or 20% of the treatment cost by presenting your insurance card (including your MYNA insurance card and certificate of eligibility) to the receptionist at the hospital. In addition, benefits are also provided in the event of childbirth or death.

※MYNA insurance card: My number card registered to be used as a health insurance card.

◆ Large sum medical expenses

If your monthly medical expenses become high due to illness or injury, you can show your insurance card (including My Number insurance card or eligibility certificate) and the "Certificate of Application of Maximum Amount" at the hospital reception. This will limit the amount you need to pay to the medical institution.

Even if you receive treatment without presenting the "Certificate of Application of Maximum Amount" at the hospital reception desk, you may be reimbursed by the city for the difference between the maximum amount referred to above and the amount you paid, upon application. Therefore, please keep your receipts and do not discard them.

Please note that the certain amount varies by household. For more details, please contact the National Health Insurance and Pension Division.

◆ Canceling your National Health Insurance

If any of the following apply, please complete the procedure to withdraw from National Health Insurance within 14 days and return your insurance card (including eligibility certificate and notification of eligibility information) to Dazaifu City Hall:
